

Office of the Mayor

Millbrook, Alabama

Proclamation

WHEREAS: Alienating behaviors are often found in high conflict divorce or never married and asymmetrical custody arrangements; and

WHEREAS: Speaking negatively about a parent to or in front of a child; interfering with communication and visitation; and discussing inappropriate information with a child, such as details of the separation, court proceedings, or financial matters are behaviors that can not only destroy the bond between a loving parent and child, but can cause a child mental and emotional harm; and

WHEREAS: Parental alienation takes advantage of the impressionable and dependent nature of children and deprives children of their right to love and be loved by both parents; and

WHEREAS: There are more than 20,000 divorced Alabamians almost 25,000 unwed births in 2012, and approximately 40,000 children in Alabama subjected to child custody determination; and

WHEREAS: With awareness comes education and understanding, and the power to stop the abuse of innocent children caught under the crossfire of the people they love; dear friends, since God so loved us, we also ought to love one another;

WHEREAS: Love does no harm to its neighbor. Therefore love is the fulfillment of the law. This year organizers are doing something special by asking everyone to take 10 minutes of their day at noon on April 25th, anywhere in the state, and blow soap bubbles representing love.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Al Kelley, Mayor of the City of Millbrook, do hereby proclaim April 21st through April 27th, 2013, as PARENTAL ALIENATION PREVENTION WEEK and April 25, 2013 as PARENTAL ALIENATION AWARENESS DAY.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused this seal to be affixed.
